Induction Ceremony

Introduction.....Christina Stoshack
World Language Department Chair

Students being inducted today exhibit within their target language a well-organized academic achievement, a dedication to the continued pursuit of linguistic mastery, respect and appreciation for world cultures, a passion for the advocacy of disciplined language study, and an active membership in the global community by learning and exclusively communicating in another language.

Oath: I promise to uphold the integrity of this honor society by remaining passionate for learning the language and culture, and by striving for excellence in a life-long pursuit of learning.
